ABOUT

Since its founding in 1953, The Paris Review has been America's preeminent literary quarterly, dedicated to discovering the best new voices in fiction, nonfiction, and poetry. The Review's renowned Writers at Work series of interviews is one of the great landmarks of world literature. Hailed by the New York Times as "the most remarkable interviewing project we possess," the series received a George Polk Award and has been nominated for a Pulitzer Prize. With the December 2016 redesign of the Review's website, the complete digital archive of everything we've published since 1953 is available to subscribers. In November 2017, the Review gave voice to over sixty years of writing and interviews with the launch of its first-ever podcast, featuring a blend of classic stories and poems, vintage interview recordings, and new work and original readings by the best writers of our time.
